

Prof. Hasan Gocmez received his BSc degree from the Department of Metallurgical Engineering of Middle East Technical University, Turkey in 1994, and his MSc and PhD degrees in Material and Ceramic Engineering departments from the Rutgers University, New Jersey, USA in 1997 and 2001, respectively. He was awarded by Japan Society for Promotion of Science as JSPS fellows between 2006 and 2007 to do research at Yamaguchi University. He was a visiting scientist at AIST, Stockholm University, Stevens Institute of Technology and KTH. He has more than 100 publications including articles, conference proceedings and others. He is also an associate editor of Journal of the Ceramic Society of Japan and was an editor of Science and Engineering Journal of Dumlupinar University. His research focus on ceramic processing, nanomaterials and photovoltaic materials. He is Professor in the Department of Metallurgical and Materials Engineering at Kutahya Dumlupinar University.